EL TERREMOTO

By HONORE WILLSIE

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment

For three months now Eleanor had been on the desert edge fighting for her brother's health. At first the desperation of the struggle had kept her thoughts from straying eastward; had crammed with anxiety each moment that otherwise would have been wretched with homesickness.

But now, with the leisure that came with Jack's returning health, homesickness was beginning its inroads upon her. This made doubly hard to bear the fact that Jack was developing the fractiousness of the convalescent and that an ordinary pacific disposition was becoming so irritable that it taxed even the devotion of this most devoted sister. On this particular afternoon he had expressed an inordinate desire for a certain brand of cigars.

"But, Jack dear," objected Eleanor, "the doctor says that you must not smoke."

"Who says I want to smoke?" growled Jack. "I just want to look at them and sniff of them and feel them. And I want them today."

Eleanor sighed patiently. "It's five miles to town, Jacky. And though it's 4 o'clock, it's frightfully hot. Don't you want to wait until tomorrow?"

"Oh, of course, if you don't want to do the favor for me," replied the invalid, walking feebly across the tent to pick up a fan.

"Why, certainly I'm going, Jacky," she cried. "The heat won't last much longer," and she disappeared toward her own tent, leaving her brother looking a bit sheepish.

So now Eleanor was riding slowly along the blistering trail toward the sleepy little adobe village which boasted a single Yankee store, at which she thought she could get the cigars. She was a beautiful girl, slender of body and lovely of face, with the refinement of good blood through many generations showing in every lineament. Her dark blue eyes, shadowed by the heavy lashes, looked tired, and her figure drooped a little as if in utter weariness.

"It's getting pretty hard," she thought. "It's spring up there, with the snow melting into little rivulets, and the pussy willows out, and the wind flowers coming. Only the thought of Jack's getting well keeps me from going mad."

She started a little as a cheery halloo greeted her, and she saw riding down the trail toward her a broad shouldered, jolly chap in cowboy attire. He wheeled his mustang and rode beside her.

"I was taking a jaunt out to tell you that I have almost finished my work and must fly eastward again."

"Oh, that is too bad!" cried Eleanor. "I've only [illegible] brown eyes beamed. swered, "but it's been a mighty pleasant week."

"Jack will miss you," said the girl.

The man eyed her silently. "She's wearing herself out," he thought. "I wish I could take her away from here. Burwell's nearly strong enough to go it alone now. Gads! She's a beauty!"

Eleanor wiped the alkali dust from her face and told him the reason for her trip to town.

"Rather hard on you," commented Hartley.

Eleanor smiled, but said nothing, and they rode for some distance in silence, Hartley's gaze scarcely leaving for an instant the drooping profile beside him.

"I wonder," he thought, "if she realizes that she's never told me a word of herself, who she is or—by the Lord Harry, if she'd have me I'd marry her tomorrow even if they both came from a foundling asylum."

By this time they were riding up the street of the dirty little Mexican village, whose inhabitants were too absorbed in the sight of the Americanos to move from beneath the horses' feet until urged to do so by Hartley in a patois that made up in vigor what it lacked in lucidity.

The Yankee store was the only frame building for miles around. It was owned by an enterprising Vermonter, who was making a small fortune in the lazy little town, where money went faster than it came.

Hartley tied the horses and they entered the store. Just as they stepped within the door it slammed shut violently behind them and the tremor of its impact shook the entire building. The storekeeper, the only other person in the dusky room, looked up in surprise that quickly changed to alarm. The tremor instead of ceasing increased.

"What's the matter?" he cried, running to the front of the store.

"I don't know," replied Hartley. "If I were up north I'd think it was a dynamite blast, but"—

Here the crockery in the window clattered and a roll of turkey red fell to the floor.

"It's an earthquake!" cried the Vermonter. "Come on, get out of here quick," and he made a dash for the knob. But the door was fast and immediately the floor was rocking so violently that the whole room seemed filled with flying articles from the store shelves. Hartley suddenly pulled Eleanor toward him, as if trying to shield her with his body. Then a great rumble, with continuous shocks like explosions, a fearful crash and darkness!

It had all happened in so short a space of time that Eleanor had scarcely realized that she was actually encountering an earthquake. She had been thrown violently to the ground, as the final shock came, and now she felt out in the darkness and encountered Hartley's quiet form. Almost hysterical with fright, she called to him and chafed his hands feverishly. Then came the voice of the storekeeper:

"Hello, you two in there!"

"Yes," called Eleanor weakly. "I'm all right, but Mr. Hartley seems badly hurt."

"The whole dinged front of the store has fallen in," called the Vermonter, "but I got out through a hole. Can you stay still till I get help?"

"Yes," answered Eleanor, and again she fell to chafing Hartley's hands.

It was a long and arduous task to remove the debris without injury to the prisoners beneath. The work was doubly long, owing to the fact that what few natives had not fled to the desert were hovering over their ruined adobes with wails of "El terremoto! El terremoto!" so that the storekeeper did most of the work himself.

Long before their rescue Hartley had recovered his senses and by combining their two handkerchiefs Eleanor had bound the wound in his head that seemed to be his only injury. It was twilight when they reached the street, a quiet, southern twilight, with just the edge of a great full moon coming up over the edge of the desert.

As soon as it was possible Eleanor with Hartley on guard set out for camp. She was greatly disturbed over her brother, though the natives assured her that the shock was not serious where there were no buildings.

Hartley, looking like a picturesque bandit with his bandaged forehead, was in great spirits despite his aching head. He said little until they were well out on the trail. Then he rode close up to Eleanor's pony.

"Miss Burwell," he said, "an accident like this makes us friends of about ten years' standing, doesn't it?"

"It surely does," cried Eleanor.

"Then," he went on eagerly, "don't you think that two such old friends could safely care for each other and—and perhaps marry each other?"

Eleanor did not seem so much astonished as the short acquaintanceship might warrant. But she blushed deeply in the moonlight.

"But you don't know me and I don't know you," she said.

"Well, I'm an architect," he answered, "and I live in Chicago and"—

"Not the John Hartley, architect,' that all the world knows!" cried Eleanor.

"I'm afraid so," he replied, a little sheepishly.

Eleanor gasped. "My little name sinks into insignificance," she said.

Hartley looked at her suspiciously.

"You aren't E. Burwell, the illustrator!" he exclaimed.

"I'm afraid so," she mocked.

Hartley stopped the ponies and drew her close in his arms. "Whatever the names," he whispered, "we belong to one another, anyhow."

A Bible Courtship.

A young gentleman at church conceived a most sudden and violent passion for a young lady in the next pew and felt desirous of entering into a not [illegible] the spot, but, the place exigency suggested the [illegible]ration, the He politely handed his fair neighbor plan: Bible, open, with a pin stuck in the following text, second epistle of John, verse 5: "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it with the following, second chapter of Ruth, verse 10: "Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take notice of me, seeing I am a stranger?" He returned the book, pointing to verse 12 of the third epistle of John, "Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you and speak face to face." From the above interview the marriage took place the following week.—Scottish American.

The Geese Won.

An English gentleman once laid a wager with George IV. that geese would beat turkeys in a race. The king, thinking that such a wager was already as good as won, willingly made the bet, and the gentleman was left to choose time and place and distance. Being well acquainted with the habits of the birds he accordingly chose for the time the evening, just before sunset, and for the place the road outside the city walls and a mile for the distance. The time came and each appeared with his flock of birds and the race began. Long ere the end came the sunset and immediately, true to their instincts, as soon as the sun had quite disappeared all the turkeys flew up into the nearest tree to roost, and no persuasion could induce them to budge an inch farther, and the geese, which had been slowly toddling on behind, quietly cackled in the winners.

Moving the Well.

A New England woman once had in her employ a rosy cheeked Irish maid of all work, whose blunders afforded them amusement to compensate for any trouble she might entail. One day the owner of the place stated in the girl's hearing that he intended to have a wood house built on a piece of ground which at that time inclosed a well.

"Shure, sor," said the inquiring Margaret, "will you be movin' the well to a more convenient spot whin the wood house is builded?"

As a smile crossed the face of her employer Margaret at once perceived she had made a mistake of some sort.

"It's a fool I am, shure," she added hastily, bound to retrieve herself. "Of coorse whin the well was moved ivery drop [illegible] would run out of it!"

Dose—One Dimeful.

"How big a dose do I need?" asked the customer of the old fashioned druggist

"Oh, I guess a heaping dimeful will be about right," was the reply.

"A dimeful?" echoed the customer. "You mean a dime's worth, don't you?"

"No, I don't," said the druggist. "A dime's worth would be two ounces, and you'd never survive such a quantity as that. I mean for you to take a dime and pile on it as much of this powder as will stick. Then you have the proper dose. Measuring medicine on a dime is a method as old as United States currency and almost as reliable. There are certain powders that can be measured more accurately that way than any other, and among us old timers who have been used to meeting emergencies 'a dimeful' is a common direction."

Different Meanings.

Some words in our language have several meanings, each different from the others, so that it is not always possible to know at first just what thought the speaker wishes to express. There is the word "humanitarian," for instance. If you will turn to your Webster you will find that it means, first, one who denies the divinity of Christ and believes him to have been merely human; second, one who limits the sphere of duties to human relations and affections to the exclusion of the religious or spiritual; third, one who is actively concerned in promoting the welfare of his kind, a philanthropist. The third sense is the one in which the word is now most frequently used, and Webster marks this definition as "recent."

The Size of Canada.

Canada is larger than the United States by a quarter of a million square miles. Canada contains one-third of the area of the British empire. Canada extends over 20 degrees of latitude—from Rome to north pole. Canada is as large as thirty United Kingdoms, eighteen Germanys, thirty-three Italys. Canada is larger than Australasia and twice the size of British India. Canada has a boundary line of 3,000 miles between it and the United States. Canada's seacoast equals half the earth's circumference. Canada is 3,500 miles wide and 1,400 from north to south.

Impure Candy.

Beware of impure candy. Sugar in candy quickly ferments after eating, and if too much is eaten serious troubles often result. Pure sugar dissolves quickly in water and leaves a clear liquid, affording an easy way of testing its purity. Drop a small piece of candy in a glass, and over it pour boiling water. Let it stand twenty-four hours. If there is any foreign substance in the candy a sediment will be found in the bottom of the glass.—New York Post.

After.

He (five years after)—All this gush about love is extremely foolish. Wherever did this stupid book come from? I must say the person who selected it showed a very insipid taste. She (quietly)—It's the book you gave me during our honeymoon, John. We read it eleven times the first week we had it.

Disgust.

"Look here," complained the victim, "you said the house was only five minutes' walk from the station. To say the least, I'm disappointed in you."

"No more than I'm disappointed in you," retorted the agent. "I thought you were a good fast walker."—Philadelphia Press.

Art and Business.

Summer Boarder—It is so picturesque to watch the cows come home.

Farmer—There's more money in it when they stay on the railroad track.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people nowadays insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Doctor R. V. Pierce Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

The Fathers' Club vs. Sonoma School Trustees.

It often takes a shock to awaken people to their duties, and so it has been in Sonoma, where an interest in school matters has at last been kindled. It took a fire-brand to stir up the community to the realization that schools cannot run themselves, and so the gradual awakening to this necessity has resulted in the Father's Club. Most communities have school Boards, who represent and act for the people in matters educational, but Sonoma's school board has not acted in the interest of the patrons of the school, who put them in office. They have chosen to look out for the interest of one man and their sole efforts, pending the grave charges sworn to against that man, have been directed toward keeping him in his position.

Becoming cognizant that their school Board was actuated alone by this motive the fathers of our school children realized that they must investigate and handle matters for themselves since their public servants—the School Trustees—would not consult the interests of the patrons of the school in this matter. Now that the Fathers' Club has began to inquire into school matters here it has come to light that aside from the scandal now under investigation by the State Board of Education, the conditions exisiting in the school under Mr. Nolan's principalship have not been up to the standard. A careful, inquiring and dutiful Board could have readily seen that the principal was slack and in other ways objectionable to many of the patrons of the school. There would have been reason enough for demanding his resignation and now, coupled with the scandal, a change is imperative.

If Mr. Nolan himself has not the good grace to withdraw in the face of the opposition and dissatisfaction which is surely apparent to him, and if the school Board still persists in looking after his interests to the detriment of the school, it is about time that the fathers stepped in—it is not only their right but their sacred duty to do so—to the end that the discipline and decorum of the school be maintained, essentials that the parents, the children and our taxpayers are entitled to.

One man's position should be willingly sacrificed for the sake of public harmony. There are other school principals who certainly would be acceptable to the School Trustees and far more preferable to the parents of over half our school children. Why then should the school and community be torn assunder by the arbitrary stand of our School Board and Mr. Nolan's determination to thrust himself on the people as long as they can be made to submit to it?

This is the question that the fathers asked themselves when they formed the club that now has these matters in hand.

The New Court House And the Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors of this county are wrestling with a hard problem in the matter of building a new Court House to replace the one demolished by the earthquake. The proposed new structure will cost $300,000 and this sum ought to be raised by a bonding proposition. The Sebastopol Times remarks editorially in discussing this question, "without bonds we can have no Court House, and without bonds we can have no bonds." This is true in so far as the peoples' consent we can have no bonds. This is true in so far as the latter proposition is concerned, but as a matter of fact the Supervisors can in the event of the defeat of the bond proposition raise the necessary revenue for a new county building by levying a direct tax on the people, and this, too, without the voters having any say in the matter at all. This latter plan would be a great burden on our taxpayers, while the bond proposition would place at the disposal of the Supervisors the necessary funds for building with scarcely a perceptible raise in the yearly tax rate. Therefore when the bond proposition is presented to the voters they should bear this in mind and support that proposition by all means, provided always that they have confidence in our Board of Supervisors as shrewd business men and honest citizens. And why should they not? The five members are representative citizens from five different parts of the county. They are elected by the people of their respective localities to transact the business of the county for them, and it is only reasonable to assume when one considers the character and standing of these five Supervisors in their respective districts, that they are now acting and will continue to act for the best interests of the tax-payers of Sonoma county in this New Court House matter. This being the case, we can see no good reason why a bond proposition submitted by them to the people should not be carried almost unanimously. It is the safest and best way out of a dilemma created by a freak of nature on the morning of April 18th last.

Political Notes

Jack Smith has a cinch as the Republican nominee for Sheriff. Regarding candidates for county offices down this way, nothing doing.

Walter F. Price will in all probability be Chas. O. Dunbar's competitor in the Senatorial race in this district.

Lawyer Berry of Santa Rosa was here Wednesday and Thursday. His name well be presented to the Republican County Convention for the District Attorneyship.

Frank M. Collins of Petaluma was in town one day this week looking after his political interests. He is seeking the nomination of Tax Collector at the hands of the delegates to the Republican County Convention.

Miss Minnie Coulter will present a petition to the Democratic delegates when they meet in convention, signed by nearly all of the teachers in the county, asking that she be given the nomination of Superintendent.

Hall's Catarrh Curee is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls Catarrh Cure is taken internally, actiing directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DROPPED FROM THE COURT CALENDAR.

The Nolan-Byron $10,000 Slander Suit Not Being Pressed.

The slander suit instituted in the Superior Court of this county several weeks ago by Walter C. Nolan against Dr. A. E. Byron to recover the sum of $10,000 for alleged damages, was dropped from the calendar of the Superior Court of this county by Judge Burnett last Monday to be restored on motion of plaintiff's attorneys.

This suit was the outcome of the charges preferred against Principal Nolan by Dr. Byron some time ago, which charges the State Board of Education is now investigating, a verdict in which case was not forthcoming from the County Board of Education, which made no findings in the case at all.

As to whether or not this damage sult will ever be pressed to a conclusion by plaintiff is only conjecture, as much depends upon the action of the State Board on the misconduct charges against the accused principal.

For School Superintendent

Miss Minnie Coulter, incumbent, will be a candidate before the Democratic County Convention for the office of Superintendent of Schools. The convention meets in Santa Rosa on Wednesday, Sept. 5th. Miss Coulter, during her incumbency has worked up our public school system to a high degree of efficiency and has made an ideal Superintendent. This, together with her popularity, her majority being over 2,000 four years ago, ought to win for her the nomination which she seeks at the hands of her party.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards Entertain Vallejoites.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Richards of the Agua Caliente Springs Hotel, entertained 300 guests from Vallejo Sunday, who came over in a special train to spend the day at this delightful resort. Among the party were Vallejo's Mayor, Common Council and Fire Department. That the day was enjoyably spent goes without saying.

A Welcome to a Popular Pastor.

The pupils of the Convent school gave their pastor, Rev. J. Leahy, a most hearty welcome last Tuesday. A program of select musical and literary numbers was rendered by the young ladies of the academy and an address of welcome was delivered by Miss R. Graham.

Want Higher Wages

The train men of the California Northwestern railway company are signing a petition requesting a raise of 20 per cent. in their wages. The signers of the petition are engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen on all trains. A reduction will also be asked by the freight men from a twelve hour to a ten-hour service.

Rejected the Bids.

The Board of Supervisors on Monday last rejected all the bids for demolishing the Court House in Santa Rosa and carting the debris away. The bids were too high and in the opinion of taxpayers down this way savored of a combination to cinch the county.

WM. CHURCH WEDS MISS J. MARCUCCI.

Father Leahy Pronounces Words Which Make Young Couple Man and Wife.

Wm. J. Church and Miss Jennie Marcucci were married Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents at Embarcadero. Rev. Father Leahy, pastor of St. Francis' Church, officiated and in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties pronounced the solemn words that made Wm. J. Church and Jennie Marcucci man and wife.

Miss Alice Church, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Tony Marcucci, brother of the bride, was best man.

After a wedding breakfast the happy young couple left for Salinas, Monterey county, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride is the handsome and winsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abramo Marcucci, old and wealthy residents of the valley. Mr. Church, the groom, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Church, pioneer residents of Sonoma.

Upon their return the young folks will take up their residence on the F. D. Spaulding ranch, below Embarcadero, which Mr. Church has leased for a term of years.

George H. Goggins of New Hampton, Iowa, was visiting his brother, H. S. Goggins here a few days last week.

Daniel Peck went to Oakland to meet his wife, who was returning home after spending several months abroad.

Col. McGarity, the dispenser of soothing drinks and "hot air" at El Verano Villa, went to San Francisco on business Monday.

Mrs. W. H. Bridges left Thursday morning for Seattle. Mr. Bridges is already there and they expect to make that their future home.

Ed. Tilden, who is to be associated with Julius Feiss in his business here, came up Sunday and took charge of affairs. Mr. Feiss went down on evening train and will arrange to move his family here in the near future.

Cliff Bean has moved to Sonoma. We are sorry to see him leave us, but Sonoma adds another new resident to her list.

James Fosgard, who has been driving the bus for the Villa, has gone to Agua Caliente to accept a position of the same kind.

Mitchell Mullen, who is in the employ of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, came up Sunday to spend his vacation. It is reported by people who came into town Sunday that they could see game of all kinds making for the mountains. When they arrived in town and saw Mitchell they well understood why the game was so [illegible]ating.

Mr. Rhodes of Oakland was here Monday overhauling the S. P. engine and pump. After he had been working for a few hours Joe Sweeney came along and made the remark: "That fellow had better let that engine alone until Mike gets back or he will have it in such shape he never will get it started." Joe did not know that the man was a machinist.

A. W. Weaver is the most industrious man in our village. Last Friday while at work he was thinking on some subject so intently that he started to shoe the wrong horse. When the nail struck the flesh he forgot all about his subject and found he was trying to shoe himself. The story as he tells it is that he stepped on a nail, running it into his foot. He is limping around and will be all right in a few days.

The deal which we mentioned some time ago that was being negotiated was consummated Saturday when Charley Danieli sold his hotel and saloon to Julius Feiss of San Francisco. Mr. Feiss has great confidence in the future of El Verano and will spend considerable money in improving his purchase. We wish him unlimited success. Mr. Danieli is as yet undecided as to what he will do, but it is probable he will buy a farm and try ranching for awhile.

Mike Mullen went to San Francisco Friday and stayed over Sunday. He was down to take the railroad examination and on September 1st he will relieve V. L. Harvey as agent here. The people of this place are to be congratulated on getting so good a young man as Mike for agent. He has had about four years experience in this office and is as capable of handling it as was his father, M. F. Mullen, or Mr. Harvey, and we all know that the patrons will get kind and courteous treatment. Success to you, Mike.

When young men just entering the gate to manhood deliberately advertise for a certain thing to deceive and get the people's money for their sole use and benefit it is time for them to stop and consider what they are doing and what kind of men they expect to make.

Such forms of graft will be condemned by all honorable people.

They may succeed the first time, but the next time people will stop and consider before they bite at anything they are promoting, though they may be sincere this time.

Deceive people once and they will watch and distrust you thereafter.

In starting on life's journey, be honorable; don't resort to low tricks, for the small returns will not justify it.

Let your works and acts speak good words for you and be men that people will be glad to call you their friend.

PATSIE.

IMPROVED SUNSET TELEPHONE SERVICE

Line to be Extended, an All Night Service and a Reduction in Rates to be Inaugurated.

H. S. Johnson, county manager of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been here several days looking after the interests of his company in this valley. He informs us that many important improvements in the service will be inaugurated next Monday. On that day an all-night telephone service will be introduced and a new residence rate of $1.00 per month will go into effect. The service will also be extended for the benefit of subscribers, with free switches, to Vineyard, Vineburg, Schellville, Drawbridge, McGill's, Boyes' Hot Springs, El Verano and Agua Caliente.

Farmers, so Mr. Johnson informs us, will be given a rate of $1.00 a year when they build their own lines to the city limits. In regard to this proposition Mr. Johnson says that his company will sell telephones to farmers, without the transmitter or receiver, for $8.00, the latter, however, will be rented for $1.00 per year, which will include night and day service and free exchange and switching.

The Fathers' Club.

The petition being circulated by a committee of the Father's Club requesting the school trustees to remove Principal Nolan of the Grammar school and appoint another teacher in his place, st l continues to receive voluntary signatures. It was the intention of the fathers to wait upon the school trustees one day this week, but action was deferred to secure more signers. The petition is a strong one and will speak for itself. It is a voluntary expression of parents who consider a change in the principalship of the school imperative.

Society Note.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons very pleasantly entertained at whist on Friday evening of last week at their home on Broadway. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hotz, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, Mesdames Dorman, Gottenberg and Burlingame. Don't You Feel Well? Ache All Over?

Fever is? Feel as though your blood was hot? Cold feet? Backache? Those warning signals which indicate that "a bad cold" or a fever is coming on? Don't get discouraged, but go home. On the way, stop at any drug store and get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When you get home, take a hot bath or a hot foot bath, go to bed, cover up warm, take a dose of the "Golden Medical Discovery." In the morning another dose, and you will feel better. You will not have to continue many doses before you are well. If you still persist in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery you will find improvement in your general constitution, appetite and blood—your liver will become active and throw off the poisons from the system.

Get as near to Nature's way as you can. There's a reason. Vegetable foods are usually good for the health. The human body digests and assimilates them best. In disease a remedy made up of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Mandrake root and Bloodroot, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is positive yet safe in its relation in the stomach and taken up by the blood, therefore it is the most potent means which can be employed for the regaining of lost health.

Microbes snarl at us from every corner. They mean to kill or eat us if they can. They are formed by millions on everything we eat, drink and wear. The air is alive with them. Medical science has proven in the past few years that nearly every disease is a germ disease. Such disease germs enter into the blood in two ways, either through the lungs or stomach. If the blood is pure and rich, the liver and stomach in healthy, active condition, the germs of disease cannot find a resting place there to multiply. Diseases of the lungs, bronchitis and consumption, grip and pneumonia, are very apt to spread through a factory where there is much fine dust in the air. The lungs become irritated and the germs find a fertile field for growth. Extreme weakness, feelings of nervous exhaustion, coughs and colds are the warning signals which should be heeded. One should put the system in the very best possible condition right away. Rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood—by increasing the red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shrivel up the red blood corpuscles. An alterative extract, made only of native medicinal roots, it goes about its work in nature's way. Only good can come from its use, as it invigorates and tones the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood.

"I am a firm believer in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Joseph Napoleon Herbert, Chairman Board of Relief, of 33 St. Paul Street, Montreal, Quebec. "Find that it has been of practical value to a number of men in my employ. They are especially exposed to inclement weather, and often the colds contracted run into pneumonia, stomach trouble, or kidney and liver disease. However, since we have known of the value of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' there is much less sickness, as this medicine seems to keep the blood in a healthy, active condition, and to ward off colds and all other diseases. It is a very fine tonic for a run-down system. I am pleased to acknowledge its worth."

BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

CONVICT No 3420

[Copyright, 1906, by R. Douglas.]

We had read all about him before he appeared at the prison under a sentence of ten [illegible]. The daily papers had said that his name was Salters and his age about forty. He had taken rooms at a fashionable boarding house on a certain street in Chicago and let it be known that he was a broker. On each side of the boarding house were private dwellings, and farther down the street, but to be reached over the roofs, was a large art store.

The first thing to happen after the arrival of Mr. Salters, but with which his name was not at all connected, was the robbery of the art store. Other robberies followed. While the detectives were after the burglar the daily papers were after the detectives, and things were being made hot all around when the rooms of eleven guests in the boarding house at which Mr. Salters stopped were robbed on the same night.

The house was filled with detectives, and everybody was examined and cross examined, but it was no use. The rooms had been entered and despoiled while the guests were sleeping.

They were waiting in fear and trembling for the next outbreak when a stupid headed servant girl in the boarding house solved the puzzle. From one of the side houses had been taken an unset catseye stone. This was found under Mr. Salters' bed one morning when the girl swept the room.

Mr. Salters was asked to explain. As he couldn't explain, he was traced to another room half a mile away and all the plunder found. He simply laughed when put under arrest. He laughed when put on trial. He had been caught so dead to rights that he smilingly pleaded guilty and took his ten year sentence without moving a muscle.

The police were on to Mr. Salters for one of the sleekest chaps in the business, and they would have given a great deal to trace his past and have him answer certain questions. He was mum on all points, however. They could not trace him back a month, and, as to how he entered the houses and rooms and left no trace behind, that was one of his professional secrets.

When Mr. Salters reached prison the first glance at him caused everybody to wonder where they had seen him before. Face, form, pose and gait all reminded us of somebody, but who that somebody was we could not recall. Had he not been passed along to the barber and from thence into stripes so soon some of us might have been the wiser. He was quiet and respectful, and it was figured that he would make a model prisoner.

After three days he was put at work in the shoe department, and all reports coming in about him were favorable. At the end of six weeks he had a chill and was sent to his cell, and the doctor gave him some medicine. Up to this time the man had not asked for a book from the library nor to see the chaplain. Many prisoners who had no religious feelings will ask for the chaplain now and then in order to have a talk and hear a human voice. On this day that he was taken ill Mr. Salters asked that the good man be sent to him, and I carried the message. I also noted that the chaplain remained with convict No. 3420 for a full hour, and when he left the cell and came down the corridor his perturbation did not fail to attract my attention. He was very pale and had been weeping.

Prison chaplains listen to many sad tales, and now and then their sympathies are aroused, but in the three years I had known our Mr. Davis I had never seen him so greatly affected. He stopped as if he would speak to me, but his tears fell afresh, his lips trembled, and he finally passed on without a word.

Mr. Salters took more medicine next day and was excused from work. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the chaplain visited him without being sent for and remained for two hours. I heard him praying long and fervently. When he left he was pale and had an anxious look, and yet there was also a look of resolve in his face. There is so much hypocrisy among convicts in the matter of religion that my curiosity in this case was not very great. The greater the rogue the harder he will try to bamboozle the chaplain into believing that he wants to walk in new paths. It was a question with me whether Mr. Salters had seen the error of his ways or was only shirking his work.

The next forenoon at 11 o'clock the chaplain paid his third visit, and as the bell rang for the convicts to march in to dinner he came forth from the cell and passed me, and the guard at the end of the corridor opened the gate for him. Other guards did the same thing, and in five minutes he was clear of the prison. It was two hours later when the doctor came in. I accompanied him to Salters' cell, and there we found the convict undressed and in bed and weeping. No, it was not the convict. It was the chaplain, though but for his long hair I should have been longer deceived. The doctor spotted him almost at once. The convict's striped suit was lying on the floor.

"You have changed clothes with No. 3420 and let him walk out!" exclaimed the doctor.

"Yes," was the tearful reply.

"But why, man, why?"

"Because he is my twin brother and has promised to lead a better life!"

The chaplain was forced to resign and was also arrested and put on trial and convicted, but I believe the governor stood his friend and had sentence suspended.

CHILDREN IN PAIN

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Sold at Simmons' Drug Store.

An Incident of Life In New York.

The street beggar with pockets lined with money is a fairly familiar figure of city life, but one of the free dispensaries reports an instance of an attempt to get free medicine on the plea of poverty that deserves a place in the catalogue of good stories of graft. A middle aged woman appeared the other day and got a prescription, after which she took her place in the line of persons waiting to have their medicine made up by the apothecary. This particular woman, it should be said, had given satisfactory answers to all the questions put to her, designed to show whether she was a proper subject for charity. Suddenly there was a cry: "I'm robbed! I'm robbed!" The victim was this woman, who so far forgot her previous professions as to assert that her pocket had been picked and that the thief had got away with $90. Then she lost the opportunity to get free medicine, thus adding, in her view, insult to injury.—New York Post.

SUMMER DIARRHOEA IN CHILDREN

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the First M. E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Acute Laryngitis.

George Washington died of a disease that was then called a quinsy, but which is now known as acute laryngitis. His physicians treated him according to their best light and knowledge, but such treatment now would be little short of criminal. An eminent authority says that if medical men had known as much then as they do now the distinguished patient would probably have been cured in a week. As it was, he slowly strangled to death by the closing of his throat. At the present time physicians treat a case of this kind by tracheotomy—that is, by making an opening into the windpipe, through which the patient may breathe. They also diagnose a case by using the laryngoscope, which enables them to look into the throat and see exactly what the trouble is.

UNNECESSARY EXPENSE.

Acute attacks of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. For sale by L. S. Simmons.

Why Larks Are Easily Caught.

No bird is so easily netted as the lark; he generally starts from the ground just before the lower edge of the net touches him and invariably mounts perpendicularly. This characteristic propensity to ascend at once may be observed by any person who "treads up" a lark in a field and satisfactorily illustrated by releasing, at the same moment, a newly captured lark and a sparrow from a cage or hat within the precincts of a room. While the sparrow will fly off horizontally, dash himself against the window and lie almost stunned from the shock, the lark will almost always mount upward to the ceiling and flutter there for a time in vain efforts to reach the [illegible] he attempts any other mode of exit; but this habit is fatal to him in the netting season. He would generally be able to escape, as indeed the bunting or clod bird, the sparrow and the linnet constantly do, by flying straight forward; but ascending, as he does, directly from the ground the moment his wings have touched the upper part of the net it is suffered to drop suddenly, and his capture is rendered inevitable.—London Standard.

"MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentry, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Chorer and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand as immediate treatment is necessary and delay may prove fatal. Sold at Simmons' drug store.

Republicans and Democrats.

The old Republican party, founded by Thomas Jefferson, had its most vigorous life during the twenty-four years while Jefferson, Madison and Monroe were in the White House. During these years it completely annihilated its opponent, the old Federalist party, which was the predecessor of the present Republican party. John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States who had a leaning to Federalism, was elected by the house of representatives (none of the candidates having a majority of the electoral vote) as a national Republican, and when Jackson came in four years later it was as a Democratic Republican. It was during his time that the latter half of the name was dropped, and the party of Jefferson took the name of the Democratic party. It was not until 1854 that the present Republican party assumed the name which the party of Jefferson and Jackson had dropped a quarter of a century before.—St. Louis Republican.

To Conciliate the Gods.

Just at night, if you happen to be within the gates of Canton, you will witness one of the little performances that are supposed to deceive the prowling spirits of the night bent upon evil intent, the while conciliating them should they penetrate the deception. Each little and big shop possesses a miniature fireplace built into the side of the entrance. Prayers printed on rice paper form the fuel with which to offer up incense to the "bogy man," who is supposed to make the nocturnal visits. Beholding the smoke, he is supposed to assume that no one lives within, and therefore passes by; but should he catch on and stop to investigate he finds that the prayer papers on the altar bear inscriptions attributing to him such virtues and magnanimity that his wrath is appeased and he turns from his evil intent.—Edwin Wildman in Chautauquan.

I have used it constantly. I believe it to be the best medicine of its kind, and I wish all sufferers from these troubles to know the good Herbine has done me." Sold at Simmons' Drug Store.

Act Quickly

Look out for that "rainy day!"

It comes sooner or later for so many—we can't tell to-day who may want on the morrow.

Prepare now while you are able for any misfortune that may overtake you. Don't run any risks.

Here is something that will help you provide for the rainy day—an investment that carries with it unusual benefits and proves its value from the minute you buy the stock.

Smith's Cash Store is well and favorably known all over the West. Its reputation is of the best and in volume of business it is making tremendous strides forward every year. Some five years ago the stock was selling for $5.00 a share. Today the price is $10.00 a share. These figures demonstrate what a thriving institution is this biggest Mail Order House on the Pacific Coast.

Each share of stock is guaranteed to earn 6 per cent a year. But the greatest benefit is derived by the stockholder from the discounts given to the holders of five or more shares of stock. You can buy anything to eat, use or wear at the same price the goods would cost your local dealers. We call them "Owner's Prices."

Suppose you buy goods that altogether cost $50 at our wholesale rate. If you are a stockholder you get a discount amounting to $2.50, and your bill is only $47.50. The saving you will make in one year in addition to the earnings will in all probability more than cover the investment.

Year after year you will be effecting big savings. But should hard times knock at your door—and you must not be too sure that something of that sort will not happen—think what it will mean to you to be able to buy everything at cost prices. It might be the very thing that would help you to survive the period of distress.

We are increasing the amount of our capital stock. We are telling you about the stock because we think you ought to invest for your own sake. You couldn't buy stock in any other concern that would pay you so well.

It will not be long before the price of the stock is advanced. You know that means there are not many days remaining in which you can take advantage of this great offer.

For your convenience we are printing a coupon which you ought to fill out—it does not obligate you in any way. Send it at once.
